Steamship Cynthiana Smashed Two Blades of Propeller.

STRUCK FLOATING WRECKAGE

While in Dry Dock For Repairs Vessel Will Have Her Hull Painted—
Liner Washington Docked For Her
Spring Overhauling—Marine Notes.

It was learned yesterday that the British steamship Cynthiana, Captain Evans, which arrived here Friday from Boston, struck a piece of floating wreckage while coming down the coast and smashed her propeller. Although two blades of the wheel were damaged, the ship was able to make port without assistance.

Yesterday the Cynthiana was floated into dry dock No. 2 to have the damaged propeller replaced by one which she had aboard. While in the basin the steamer will have her hull cleaned and painted below the water line.

The Cynthiana is bound for Gulfport and was on her way here to load bunker coal when the accident occurred. She is consigned to Furness, Withy & Co. and is taking coal from the White Oak Coal Company.

START WITH A VICTORY

Locals Win First Ball Game, Defeating Virginia's Tars.

GOOD EXHIBITION OF SPORT

Most of the Old Players Were in Their Places When Home Team Appeared—New Pitcher Gives Promise of Excellent Work.

In the opening base ball game of the season at the Casino park yesterday afternoon the Newport News team defeated the nine of the crew of the United States battleship Virginia by the score of 4 to 2. For a season starter the exhibition was all that the two hundred fans in attendance could have desired. Except a few occasions the fielding of the teams was clean and fast, and was not as bad as the error column might indicate. The score was very close and for that reason the enthusiasm of the fans was kept at the highest pitch from the end of the first session until the last sailor had been declared out in the ninth inning.

The game was entirely void of spectacular plays, the only semblance to a feature being a double play in the third session when Beckes fielded a single, threw to Young who retired a tar and then sent the sphere to John O'Hara at second base who completed the only double of the game. Young's throw was bad and O'Hara had to take it in with one hand.

When the locals took the field for practice there were many new faces to the local fans and for that reason the rooting contingent of the home team was a little dubious of a victory. On the other hand the half hundred blue jacket rooters, which came over from Norfolk with the Virginia's team were sure of a victory for their nine. The practicing of the two teams was watched by all with interest and when the game was finally called at 2:35 o'clock the excitement of the fans was at white heat.

After the first three sessions of the contest the local fans took heart for victory for the home team and loomed up upon the horizon. The game was not clinched, however, until the ending of the seventh inning and even then the local fans had their doubts for Manager Leeb took Young out and sent Hughes to third, replaced John O'Hara at second by Fitzgerald and put Glenn out in left garden, which Fitzgerald had deserted to take care of the second sack.

Hughes proved to be a fast player and he made three good plays during the two sessions that he looked after the third sack. Fitzgerald covered second fairly well, and Glenn did not get a ball his way.

The sailors did a little switching in the eighth inning. Kennedy was replaced on the slab by Cramer and the erstwhile pitcher took the first sack. Ball was sent to right field and Curry donned the mask. Bretz replaced Fletcher in the left garden. The change did not strengthen the sailor team for the game was lost to them before the change was made.

In the sixth session the captain of the sailor team objected to some of the decisions made by Umpire Carmichael and after a little "jawing" he induced Dr. Leeb to put Eddie Monroe in Carmichael's place.

The star player of the game was Reynolds, a new twirler whom Dr. Leeb has just signed for the season. No one knew much of the lad's ability as a pitcher, but before the game was three sessions old the unanimous verdict of the fans was that he was the "real goods." Reynolds has plenty of speed with good curves that break "nasty" for a batter, or at least the seemed to break bad for the sailors, who were able to find his delivery for only four singles during the game.

The personnel of the teams follows:

Newport News—Young 3 b, J. O'Hara 2 b, P. O'Hara c, Fitzgerald 1 b, and 2 b, Davis 1 b, McLaughlin s, Beckes c, L. Reynolds p, Hughes 3 b, Glenn 1 f.

U. S. S. Virginia—Price 3 b, Glavin c, f, Buns 2 b, Curry r, f, Cramer 1 b, and p, Fletcher 1 f, Smith s, s, Ball c, and r, f, Bretz 1 f.
